Let Them Eat Gold Oct 06 2021 It is July of 1932, and farmers throughout the United States are desperate. Prices are plummeting and a drought is wreaking havoc, causing the Midwest to tumble into a dark hole of misery with seemingly no way out. In the midst of this disaster, Des Moines organizer Al Rieman arrives in Port City, Iowa, to initiate a radical organization of farmers. He decides to go undercover to search for thrashing work in hopes of convincing farmers to join together, unionize, and strike. With help from Lyle, a local teen, Al eventually secures work with farmer John Overholtz. As Al gathers farmers on his side and pulls together his master plan for a "holiday" that will block roads, shrink food supplies, and hopefully raise prices, he and Lyle must deal with a rigid judge and his housekeeper; a hard-nosed landlord and her alcoholic husband; an ineffective sheriff and his bitter wife; and a colorful newspaper editor who plays all sides. As if that is not enough, Al has an encounter with a beautiful young woman Helen, who may change his plans for good. In this novel based on true events of the Great Depression, an uprising comes to fruition that shocks America and changes history forever.

Solution from a Dead Man Nov 14 2019 Retired after thirty-plus years in law enforcement, Tony DiGiusto, newly licensed private investigator, was looking forward to a quiet and uneventful retirement investigating simple everyday civil cases for local attorneys from an office in the sleepy and affluent hamlet of Sausalito, just across the Golden Gate Bridge from San Francisco. Little did Tony know that his first major clients—a pair of twins who had hired his uncle, a well-known San Francisco attorney, to investigate a property ownership dispute—would lead him to investigate the sudden and unexplained death of his uncle in a small Northern California town. Tony becomes entangled in a complex and horrendous investigation that will lead him from San Francisco to the charming and picturesque towns of the Sierra Gold Rush areas. The investigation into his uncle's death leads Tony and his live-in girlfriend, Gina Rosetti, into a nightmarish web of terror and murder involving long-forgotten Nazi activities in California and almost costs Tony and Gina their lives. California's colorful capital, Sacramento, and its legislative bodies play an unwitting part in this fast-paced and intriguing glimpse into a madman's plan for a new Third Reich.

Gods of Desterrados & the Unbreakable Curse Aug 24 2020 "... "Deuce? Did it help?" "... "Deuces...Manuia?!" Deuce sniffed before finally answering. "I did a terrible thing. MIB and Chaos used me to do something horrible to Angelica. I'm gonna go now before I manifest and kill myself, okay? Wouldn't wanna go out like a Divine god. I deserve something way less honorable than that. Thanks for the memories, uso..." The line went dead and Silex immediately phoned Priest for an emergency Code: Black. It was code for a suicide advisory call. Right after he got off the line with Silex, Priest exhaled in utter frustration and made the call to Loto. "I need us to break protocol on this. I know we were supposed to play it legit this mission, but this situation is totally off the record right now and it takes precedence, brother. I think Deuce endured the same thing you did with the Sprite Queen. But the situation was at the Boneyard during Florida and Angelica's incident. He was 'urged' by a third party, possibly Tunui or Chaos. MIB had their hands in it as well. I'll explain more later... Be at the hotel in five minutes," muttered Priest. "I'm on my way right now!" advised Loto.

Quit Your Job in 6 Months Feb 22 2023 Ordinary Job, Ordinary Life "Quit your job? But I thought having a job was a good thing!" Jobs feel safe. We show up, do what we're supposed to do, and a check for the same amount comes in every couple of weeks. We can feel safe, secure, and comfortable with that. We can budget for housing, transportation, and food. We might even get a few weeks of vacation each year and have enough left over to go somewhere nice. So what's the problem? Average Isn't Satisfying, and Repetition is Drudgery The problem is that average just isn't satisfying. We can be thankful that we're not homeless or completely impoverished all we want, but that still doesn't scratch the itch we all have to live an extraordinary life—to spend more time doing what we love, less time doing what we don't love, and have more financial wealth to support our adventures. On top of that, most jobs involve doing the same things over and over again. You don't learn. One day blends into the next. You don't grow. Your life lacks richness, diversity, and excitement. All put together this doesn't make for a very inspiring way to live the one life you get. A Panther's Father III Mar 19 2020 In this book, the same lovable characters, including Granny Z, that the reader has encountered in the first two books are still present and just as lovable or disgusting as before. And like the 1st two books, Granny Z tells the same wonderfully engaging children tales for all children to help lift their heads-up. The time table is set in a very difficult to explain time period of racial turmoil and continuing racial injustices spiraling out of control taking place everywhere. Everyone is either working hard or angered by not having any work. It is a time of many powerful events challenging America and the Cold War is blistering to a fever pitch. The Soviet Union and America are engaging each other in cat and mouse games of dangerous war tactics where young men and women are being killed away from the General Public's eye. A Soviet Nuclear Submarine Base being built on the coast of Mexico only adds to the furious nature of this novel and the Cold War.

Matt put the small aircraft into a dive. Tasha's stomach dove with it. Matt flew as close to the ground as he could, staying just high enough to miss the trees. If they were shot down, at least they wouldn't have far to crash. Not flying in a straight line, Matt weaved in and out the top branches of the trees, up and down, using military strafing maneuvers. Tasha felt like she was on a roller-coaster. The MiG, flying at a speed much faster than the small plane, flew over them. "Dave send those coordinates yet?" Matt asked. Tasha checked her phone. "No, not yet." Now, the MiG was now coming straight at them. "Let's play chicken," Tasha suggested. "Crazy woman." Matt shook his head. "But smart. Hang on." He pulled back on the yoke and the airplane rose at an alarming rate, pressing Tasha back into her seat. "Um . . . I was just joking. You know my sense of humor." The plane kept gaining altitude until the MiG was directly in their line of sight. "Matt. Sarcasm. It was only sarcasm. I wasn't serious. If the pilot gets over the shock, he's going to blow us out of the sky." Tasha could imagine bullets ripping through the windshield. "He's got to get over the shock first," Matt said. He didn't waiver, but flew steadily toward the MiG. Little plane facing off with big bad-ass military jet. Tasha couldn't imagine a scarier sight. "What the hell? Are you going to wait until you can see the white of his eyes?" Matt laughed, crazily enough seeming to enjoy himself. Flashbacks from his military days, perhaps? "Going down." He put the plane into another sharp dive. Down, down, down. He was so focused his face looked like a granite statue. The MiG shot over the top and disappeared behind them. Only trouble was, Tasha's stomach was still going up, up, up. It was possible she was going to lose the food she'd eaten earlier. "How the hell do you do this for a living?" "What happened to my tough woman?" "Your woman? I'm sure I'll need to analyze that when I'm not about to barf." She held onto her head, took deep lung-expanding breaths through her nose. He tossed her a glance. The Brave Athlete Aug 16 2022 The Brave Athlete solves the 13 most common mental conundrums athletes face in their everyday training and in races. You don't have one brain—you have three; your ancient Chimp brain that keeps you alive, your modern Professor brain that navigates the civilized world, and your Computer brain that accesses your memories and runs your habits (good and bad). They fight for control all the time and that's when bad things happen; you get crazy nervous before a race, you choke under pressure, you quit when the going gets tough, you make dumb mistakes, you worry about how you look. What if you could stop the thoughts and feelings you don't want? What if you could feel confident, suffer like a hero, and handle any stress? You can. The Brave Athlete from Dr. Simon Marshall and Lesley Paterson will help you take control of your brain so you can train harder, race faster, and better enjoy your sport. Dr. Marshall is a sport psychology expert who trains the brains of elite professional athletes. Paterson is a three-time world champion triathlete and coach. Together, they offer this innovative, brain training guide that is the first to draw from both clinical science and real-world experience with athletes. That means you won't find outdated "positive self-talk" or visualization gimmicks here. No, the set of cutting-edge mental skills revealed in The Brave Athlete actually work because they challenge the source of the thoughts and feelings you don't want. The Brave Athlete is packed with practical, evidence-based solutions to the most common mental challenges athletes face. Which of these sound like you? · Why do I have thoughts and feelings I don't want? · I wish I felt more like an athlete. · I don't think I can. · I don't achieve my goals. · Other athletes seem tougher, happier, and more badass than me. · I feel fat. · I don't cope well with injury. · People are worried about how much I exercise. · I don't like leaving my comfort zone. · When the going gets tough, the tough leave me behind. · I need to harden the f*ck up. · I keep screwing up. · I don't handle pressure well. With The Brave Athlete: Calm the F*ck Down and Rise to the Occasion, you can solve these problems to become mentally strong and make your brain your most powerful asset.

Dating A Pro (Contemporary Romance, Sports, Romantic Comedy, Humor) Dec 08 2021 Harrison was caught in the Graham curse, only with the wrong woman. At 33, Harrison Graham knew he lucky. His reputation wasn't the best, but the money he made allowed him to date debutants. It also allowed him to sleep with divorced women who knew the score. Did he want to find real love one day? Sure, he wanted a wife—eventually. He'd give in then to the Graham curse of fidelity to one woman that his grandfather warned him about. Though it might be 1965 everywhere else in the world, when it came to marrying in Falls Church, things still worked like they had in 1955. He was enjoying his bachelorhood, but wasn't going to turn into his father, moving from bad marriage to bad marriage after his mother died. Call him crazy, but he honestly believed he'd one day find a true love relationship like his grandparents had. Until the right one came along, the Honorable Doris Isette Pearson looked like a perfect distraction. She had handled her own divorce and was now on the dating market. Among the members of the Falls Church Country Club, Doris was nearly as infamous as him. The woman also played a mean game of golf and he'd heard stories about her almost going pro. Her tendency to buck convention as much as Harrison did definitely made Doris worthy of a tumble. She wasn't his first older woman so the decade difference in their ages didn't bother him a bit. After all, it wasn't like he was going to marry the woman. All he wanted was to share her lonely divorcee bed and maybe stir things up at the club with a few mix-gender golf games. He and Doris would both have some fun. The last thing Harrison expected was to find himself falling for the most inappropriate female he'd ever met.
